

TURNITIN REVISION ASSIGNMENT

Follow these instructions for creating a Turnitin revision assignment (final draft, in most cases).

Instructions

1. Navigate to the content area or folder where you want to add a Turnitin Assignment.
2. Click on the Build Content menu and then select New Turnitin Assignment.

3. Type an assignment title in the box under Title. For revision assignments, feel free to add names like “Research Paper – Final Version”.

4. Add Instructions in the Instructions box.

5. Add points in the Max grade box.

6. Enter a Start Date and time (when the assignment is available to students) and a Due Date and time. Also, enter a Feedback Release Date and time, when you expect any grades and feedback you leave via Grademark will be accessible to students.

Note:

Please note that the system uses a 24 hour clock. For example, midnight is 00:00, Noon is 12:00 and end of day is 23:59. Visit this guide to convert to a 24 hour clock format.

7. Click on Optional Settings.

8. Under the Submit papers to option, ensure that Do not store the submitted papers is the selected option. Leave the option unchecked for “allow submissions of any file type”. Decide whether to allow late submissions (check) or not (do not check).

Compare against

- Student paper repository
- Current and archived web site content
- Periodicals, journals and publications

13. In the Similarity Report section, choose your desired option:
- Generate reports immediately (students cannot resubmit) – students can submit once to the assignment and a Similarity Report will be produced immediately
  - Generate reports immediately (students can resubmit until due date) – students can submit multiple times to the assignment and receive a new Similarity Report. After 3 resubmissions, they will need to wait 24 hours after a resubmission to see a new report
  - Generate reports on due date (students can resubmit until due date) – a similarity report will be generated after the due date of the assignment has passed
